

This new booklet describes and illustrates the selection, the training, the work and life of R.A.F. officers who fly

Write now for your copy

As one of the people who are interested in flying and drawn instinctively towards its comradeship, team spirit, and sense of adventure, you will be interested in this new booklet. It is not only about flying, but about officers who fly. This is important. The Queen's commission is not awarded lightly. You can read of the care the R.A.F. takes to select young men who meet the necessary high standards of intelligence, aptitude, and character — and who are potential leaders.

The rewards are considerable. Not just the material rewards of good pay and living standards, but the deeper satisfaction of a career that exercises all your talents to the full; that gives you the chance of carrying real responsibility at an early age; and is vital to the defence of the Western world.

To Group Captain J. W. Allan, D.S.O., D.F.C., A.F.C., R.A.F., Adastral House (GR295) London WC1. Please send me the free booklet 'Aircrew'.

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

_____

DATE OF BIRTH _____

For further information regarding the types of commission open to you, please send a separate sheet of paper giving details of your education. The minimum qualification is 5 acceptable 'O' levels or equivalent; but one or two 'A' levels would be an advantage.

